DOCUMENT RESUME

ED 459 119 SO 033 313

TITLE	Save Our History. America's Most Endangered, 2001. [Videotape and] The Idea Book for Educators.
INSTITUTION	A&E Network, New York, NY.
PUB DATE	2001-00-00
NOTE	0p.; Videotape not available from ERIC.
AVAILABLE FROM	A&E Television Networks, Attn: Community Marketing, 235 East 45th Street, New York, NY 10017 (50-minute VHS videotape, item number: AAE-43238, $24.95). Tel: 877-875-3276 (Toll Free); Fax: 212-551-1540; e-mail: savehistory@aetn.com; Web site: http://www.historychannel.com/classroom/index.html; Web site: http://www.nthp.org/11most/.
PUB TYPE	Guides - Classroom - Teacher (052)
EDRS PRICE	Document Not Available from EDRS.
DESCRIPTORS	Academic Standards; *Built Environment; Heritage Education; High Schools; *Historic Sites; Middle Schools; National Standards; Social Studies; *United States History
IDENTIFIERS	*Historical Preservation; National History Standards; National Trust for Historic Preservation

ABSTRACT

"Save Our History" is The History Channel's national campaign dedicated to historic preservation and history education. As part of the campaign, The History Channel produces a videotape, "America's Most Endangered," based on a list developed annually by the National Trust for Historic Preservation. The videotape focuses attention on the National Trust's quest to save and preserve the 11 most endangered historical places in the United States, places of historical significance that face neglect, decay, and ruin. The goal is to raise the public's awareness about the importance of historic preservation. The videotape is suitable for middle and high school classes on U.S. history, social studies, environmental sciences, and writing. The accompanying idea book provides teachers with previewing, viewing, and post-viewing activities, as well as a vocabulary list. (BT)

Reproductions supplied by EDRS are the best that can be made from the original document.